

LANDSLIDE AT LONG ODDS.

WITH THE FIFTH RACE AT AQUEDUCT WITH JOCKEY BERKEP UP.

Albion and Pass, the only favorite to pull through after the second day's racing on the spring of the Queens County Jockey Club. The weather was dull and threatening, but fortunately no rain fell, and the track improved to some extent under the influence of a searching land breeze. There were no special features scheduled, but the six over-night events had filled very well, and those who made the trip from town in anticipation of interesting sport were not disappointed.

While the horses quartered at the track were exercising in the early afternoon one of the most conspicuous performers was C. F. Dwyer's promising three-year-old chestnut colt Michael III, by Lexington-Jessie C. He worked a mile in 1:10 with a fair breeze, and the crowd gathered about him was large. He was a fine specimen of a horse, and his owner, Mr. C. F. Dwyer, said the loss is regarded as the most serious of the season. The horse was a fine specimen of a horse, and his owner, Mr. C. F. NEWS OF THE WHEELMEN.

WHY HIGH-GRADE BICYCLES ARE SELLING FOR 80 LITTLE MONEY.

Patentees Have High at the Headquarters of the L. A. W. An American Leases His Wheel at Berlin and is Pined for Leaving It in the Street—No N. A. C. Medal.

A suggestion for those riders who are deploring the question, to buy or not to buy, is affording the following remarks made by the oldest and largest retailer in Brooklyn: "I think the general public does not understand the situation that now exists in the trade and does not appreciate the exceptional advantages it offers. Never before have persons received a chance to buy truly high-grade wheels for so little money and there is not yet to be again. The fact is that prices have been forced down while quality has not. This is for the reason that the big factories were caught by the fall of the market when the stock and the tools and the methods of work in them would not permit of their turning out anything except a first-class product. It is a question in my mind, whether the makers are going to continue to turn out as good wheels for $50, $60, and $75. It is well known that many of them are working on a margin of profit so small that it leaves them no room for ordinary commercial risks. These are going to seek for larger profits hereafter, and the only way for them to do it will be to reply to the market prices with a lower cost of production and a depreciation of quality."

It may afford members of the L. A. W. at large some satisfaction to know that the tide of patriotism runs high at the headquarters of the organization. President Potter has had several patriotic medals for the year of all the officers, in which the emblematic shield of the United States, bearing the Stars and Stripes, is conspicuously displayed in the center. He is also working on a scheme for making a new honor badge showing the national colors. Counselor Minor of the New York State Police, who is not only a member of the law partner, but with the League leader in declaring that he is ready to enlist the moment his services become necessary.

It is probable that there will be no mileage medals offered by the New York A. C. this year, but a number of the enthusiastic riders of the organization are at work piling up records. Several of the best riders are not only members of the law partner, but with the League leader in declaring that he is ready to enlist the moment his services become necessary.

A downtown bicycle store has been attracting attention to its windows by the display of a photograph of the Twenty-fifth United States Infantry Bicycle Corps of Fort Mifflin, Montana. The photograph shows the men of the corps in their full uniform, with their bicycles, and with their arms. The photograph is a very fine one, and it is well worth a look. The photograph is a very fine one, and it is well worth a look.

At Berlin it is an offence to leave any vehicle standing in a street without some one in it. Bicycles are not an exception. If a cyclist comes by way of England that an American cyclist who was unfamiliar with the laws here, left his bicycle standing in a street, and was fined. The cyclist was fined.
